

Public note

Bruno Pedro

Thursday, April 21, 2022

People in business and tech talk endlessly about fundraising, product-market fit, design thinking, the latest tech, management techniques, consumer trends – everything except the need to keep yourself in fighting shape. That's crazy. Building and running a startup is exhausting. All founders need to create strategies to stay fit – mentally, emotionally, and physically. You don't want your company to implode simply because you never carved out time to exercise or sleep.

---

Found on Managing Your Mental Health While Running a Startup | Future
on 2022-04-21 10:45:20.

Tags: #health #mental-health #startup #life