

Public note

Bruno Pedro

Wednesday, April 27, 2022

This article proposes an entirely different approach—one that might seem counterintuitive but might actually provide for a workable plan that enables more free speech, while minimizing the impact of trolling, hateful speech, and large-scale disinformation efforts. As a bonus, it also might help the users of these platforms regain control of their privacy. And to top it all off, it could even provide an entirely new revenue stream for these platforms. That approach: build protocols, not platforms.

Found on Protocols, Not Platforms: A Technological Approach to Free Speech
| Knight First Amendment Institute on 2022-04-27 11:44:33.
Tags: #social-media #platform #protocol #blockchain